I am excited about adding Knoxville, TN as part of our network! The former High Country Express, based on Knoxville, TN, is now part of the Calex team. Not only did we add a presence in the southeast, we added a new type of equipment, flat bed's with rolling tarp kits. These trailers will be available throughout much of the United States. Out of the new Knoxville location we also offer standard flat bed, dry van and refrigerated service.

Jack Griffin, founder of High Country Express, is on board with Calex and will manage the Knoxville facility. Also, the very best that High Country Express depended on for many years of providing the highest level of service have also joined the Calex team.

The addition of Knoxville, TN, in addition to Milford, DE and our corporate facility in Pittston PA, gives Calex three excellent transportation locations in east and southeast. Also, with driver staff domiciled on the West Coast and in the southwest we now have a great asset based footprint to service the entire United States.

I, and our whole team, look forward to talking to you about opportunities that capitalize on the new location, services and experience our new team offers.

Regards,

Doug Barbacci
